MAKI ATTACHMENTS SALES MANAGER

Job Overview

The Company's Maki Attachments division is seeking a Sales Manager to pioneer a new line-up of Attachment products for the construction, agricultural and industrial markets in North America.

Job Requirements

The ideal candidate is a proven sales professional with the skills and aggressiveness to source and develop new customers to achieve sales objectives. This individual must be results driven and have exceptional phone and communication skills. They must be able to initiate and implement sales and marketing programs that achieve results.

Applicants with a proven sales background and/or experience running their own small business are encouraged to apply. You must be comfortable sourcing, talking and negotiating with decision makers about machinery and metal products in order to close orders. This position is suitable for independent individuals who love the challenge of business and are self-motivated to reach goals.

Benefits

The position is located at our Head Office in Yorkton, Saskatchewan. Yorkton serves as center of the 3rd largest trading area in the province of Saskatchewan. We're a family friend city with many retail, service, and recreational amenities available to residents.
